

For section 1 of the exam, candidates should prepare a brief introduction to TWO of the following topics:

- The Royal Family
- Sport
- The Education System
- The National Health Service
- The Political System
- British Food, Drink and Pubs
- Religion and the Reformation
- Multi-cultural Britain
- The Weather

The examiners will ask each candidate which topics they have prepared and will then select ONE. The candidate will then be asked to introduce the topic, speaking for up to two minutes. The examiners will then initiate a discussion based on the introduction. See relevant exam summaries.
